

Perrigo Animal Health, Walmart Provide Ultimate Protection for Atlanta Police Patrol K-9s

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 14, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- The Atlanta Police Department's K-9 unit will now be protected in the line of duty thanks to the support of PetArmor®, a brand of Perrigo Animal Health, and Walmart. In partnership with Vested Interest in K9s, Inc. — a nonprofit organization that provides bullet- and stab-protective vests to police departments nationwide — the group donated five protective vests to help keep the Georgia-based K-9 officers safe.

Thousands of law enforcement K-9s put their lives on the line to protect America on a daily basis. They are usually the first officer to enter a dangerous situation, and help track and neutralize violent criminals, sniff out illegal or explosive materials and search for survivors of natural disasters. In most cases, law enforcement agencies do not have the budget to purchase K-9 protective vests because they cost $1,050 each. As a result, police dogs are left unprotected while fighting crime.

"Our K-9 officers are as beloved and valued as our human officers," said Atlanta Police Department Chief George Turner. "We are thrilled that PetArmor is helping to protect five of our K-9s. This donation will now allow us to provide our K-9s with a higher level of protection."

The K-9 vest recipients and their human counterparts are:

- Diesel and Officer Ronald Walker
- Lex and Officer Maurie Phelps
- Ruckus and Officer Brittney Fisher
- Arass and Officer Robert Godwin
- Jet and Officer Runako Stephens

The protective vests will be awarded to the K-9 officers during a ceremony on Sept. 15 at 10 a.m. EDT in the Atlanta Walmart Supercenter, located at 1801 Howell Mill Rd. NW.
